  2. WKUSES Survey: look at the national survey of student engagement that dedicate you uses to see the questions are appropriate for doing in direct measures for our goals.
  3. Review the grading rubrics for each of the goals
  4. Discussed the code of ethics
  5. Discuss the AOL senior exit exam for BA 175

The marketing, economics, and accounting Department return curricular changes as a skirt over the last several semesters.

The WKUSES survey was reviewed in several questions were identified as possible questions related to the goals of the college. This will be further explored in our next meeting.

There was a question as to what are other schools doing in terms of measuring similar goals.

The grading rubrics appeared to be satisfactory for our goals.

The committee was made aware of the code of ethics, but nothing else was discussed about them.

The senior exit exam will be given to BA 175 and will be used as a pretest. This will allow us to determine what knowledge the students have the goals before they start taking the core business classes.

The next scheduled meeting will be October 17 at one o'clock in the management conference room.
