This program is designed to develop Teacher Leaders who can positively impact student learning in their classrooms and schools while serving students with Learning and Behavior Disorders. The School of Teacher Education, through the Exceptional Education program area, offers courses and experiences for initial preparation of Exceptional Education teachers and for those seeking advanced preparation. Advanced preparation programs include Professional Learning Communities in which teacher candidates interact with other graduate students from various content areas and grade levels to discuss and work on real world challenges and promising practices they encounter in schools.

This concentration is for advanced preparation as an additional certification for those holding certification in any area other than Exceptional Education LBD or MSD certification.

Within this concentration, the teacher candidate is expected to become competent in theory, research, and application of best teaching practices related to exceptional students with Learning and Behavior Disorders and to exhibit appropriate teacher disposition behaviors as indicated by the College of Education and Behavioral Sciences Teacher Disposition Rating Form. Teacher candidates will complete a professional education component and a specialization component based upon their certification status, educational background, and career goals.
